LETTER FROM THE CHAIRMAN

We thank GOD for HIS protection and providence. We thank GOD that many of the systems that support the Home – both local and international have improved, after the Covid-19 pandemic. Never-the-less, we appeal to our donors and all people of goodwill to revive their support to Sanyu Babies' Home (SBH) to enable us to run the Home and meet the high cost of operating it; especially with the difficulty of paying salaries, paying for food, medical bills and other management costs.

As our patron, the Bishop of Namirembe Diocese, The Rt. Rev. Wilberforce Kityo Luwalira, (who appointed us as a Board to SBH) approaches retirement towards the end of this year, we thank him most sincerely: for the confidence, steadfast guidance, support, and love that he has exceedingly demonstrated towards SBH.

We thank Barbara, the dedicated Director of SBH, and all staff, for the tremendous work they do for the Home.

We note with thanks that SBH has recently attracted many young local volunteers to partner with the traditional foreign volunteers, like Irene Svendsen - from Norway, who all work together as a team with great passion, energy, integrity, calmness, and responsibility. On behalf of the Board, I sincerely thank (as he retires) the wonderful Social Worker Brasio Kkonde for the invaluable work he rendered to SBH.

The Director has thanked many of those that have played a big role in supporting SBH; this includes those who helped us to overcome the formidable task of acquiring a new pick-up van. We wish to echo that gratitude. We continue to appeal to you to sponsor a child, send more mobile money transfer donations, send a donation in the form of consumables out of the wish list (shown at the end of the newsletter), or contribute money through the listed banking systems – you can list your contribution to be in the general category, or earmark your donation towards a specific item. On top of the above, you can also recruit or talk to a friend, a member of your family, or a known association (like a church, corporation) and inform them about Sanyu Babies' Home and the need for help.

We thank foster/adoption parents for the feedback they rendered to SBH. Management is also commended for spearheading this novel idea.

We pray that GOD blesses and rewards you all for your kindness.

Dr. Stephen Kituuka – Board Chairman

LETTER FROM THE DIRECTOR

Dear Friends,

Welcome to our June 2023 Newsletter Issue 59. We have had a very busy few months at Sanyu Babies' Home which we hope you will enjoy reading about. We thank God who has continued to watch over us and bless us as we seek to provide Christ-like love to the babies and children deprived of parental love; and reintegrating them into the community, through reuniting them with their families, fostering or adoption.

Perhaps, our most exciting piece of news is that we have now been able to purchase our new pick-up truck! We have been fundraising for a new truck since 2020. The new pick-up will make such a big difference to the Sanyu staff and children. We have already used the truck for follow-up visits to reunited children, medical visits, investigations and trips to the farm – and we have only had the truck for 3 weeks! Once again we would like to thank Global Endeavors - Canada, the staff of World Bank Uganda through their Community Connections Campaign, Crested Crane Bible Study Group- New Jersey, Liz & Christopher Meynell, Rosa Malango, Doreen Nantongo, Laurence and Diana London; and the Sanyu Teachers and volunteer Emily Cheer for the money raised from the Christmas Card project.

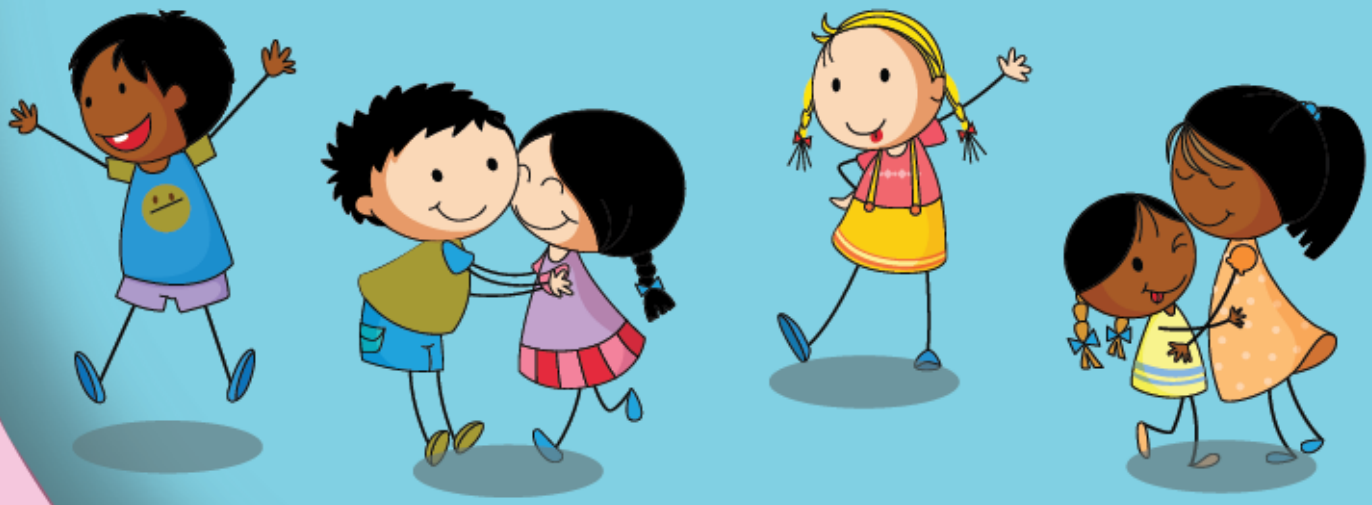

Sanyu Babies' Home is always very grateful to its national and international volunteers. We are very lucky to have a large team of Ugandan volunteers helping to support Sanyu and the Mamas. The volunteers have been supporting in the kitchen, laundry, caregiving and sanitation departments as well as in school and 1-1 sessions. Many of our local volunteers are here to complete a placement as part of education. We are very grateful to have played a small part in their education journey – we wish them all the best as they move on in their studies. We would also like to thank our international volunteers. In particular we thank Jon Horning and his team from USA. They kindly fundraised in order to purchase paint for the classrooms. Whilst they were at Sanyu they also gave their time to repaint the classrooms which are looking much brighter.

Over the past 3 months, we have had many arrivals and departures. As you will see, in the case of Andrew, he was much improved after spending just a few weeks at Sanyu where he is loved and cared for. We also welcomed 53 of Sanyu's foster and adoptive parents for the first time. The CRANE facilitated meeting gave parents the opportunity to meet one another and develop important support networks. We have also had several goodbyes; no matter how short a child's time is at Sanyu when they leave we know that they were loved. We have also said goodbye to Social Worker- Brasio Kkonde. Brasio has selflessly served Sanyu Babies' Home for over 10 years. We hope that after reading about Brasio in our newsletter you too will appreciate all he has done for Sanyu. We thank him for the love, care and support he has given to countless children, their families and our staff members.

Thank you to all of our sponsors and supporters from all over the world. If you would like to support the work of Sanyu, please get in touch with us!

"Let us not become weary in doing good, for at the proper time, we shall reap a harvest if we do not give up" (Galatians 6:9)

BARBARA N. MUTAGUBYA - Director- Sanyu Babies' Home

Hellos and GOODBYES

MEET ANDREW TUSUUBIRA!

Meet Andrew Tusuubira! Andrew arrived on 25th April 2023 aged 18 months. Andrew was a very sad, sick and malnourished child when he arrived. He had many mouth sores, which meant that eating and drinking was incredibly painful for him, which made it difficult for him to grow stronger and gain weight. He was in pain, felt lost and cried a lot. Until one day, everything started to fall into place. His mouth sores cleared up, he began to feed himself his food and he started enjoying cuddles with staff and volunteers. In less than two weeks, there was such a big transformation! And now, Andrew is thriving! He is settled, healthy and an important part of the Sanyu Family.

Andrew is such a happy and loving child. He is always smiling and walking to give someone a hug. Andrew is in Joy Class and particularly enjoys when the class sings songs. In class Andrew also enjoys playing with the xylophone and throwing balls. Teacher Jackie shared that Andrew still likes to be carried in class and he likes to ride on the rolling toys. When Andrew is doing 1:1, he is very hard working. He is always excited for the activities and loves to work individually with volunteers. He always stays focused on the activity and enjoys trying new things. Some of the activities that Andrew particularly enjoys are playing with sensory toys, exploring cooked pasta, and shaking sensory bottles. During play time, Andrew loves to be outside. He will often walk up to mamas or volunteers holding a toy and ready to play with them. Andrew loves to swing, play in the sand, and go down the slide. Andrew gets along very well with the other children and enjoys playing with toys outside and digging in the sand with other children. It seems that Andrew does not have a favourite food. Mamas at Sanyu agreed that Andrew just likes to eat and will eat anything that they feed the children. When mamas and volunteers at Sanyu were asked to describe Andrew in one word they said: happy, friendly, free, and humble.

We are so excited to watch Andrew grow even more in confidence and see him flourish as part of the Sanyu Family!

THANK YOU BRASIO!

> "Brasio has quite literally changed hundreds of lives whilst at Sanyu."

On the 19th of May 2023, we said farewell to our wonderful Social Worker Brasio Kkonde. Brasio has worked at Sanyu since 3rd October 2012 and decided it was time to step back from his role as Social Worker, so he could focus on his young family and other projects at home. Brasio has quite literally changed hundreds of lives whilst at Sanyu. He worked tirelessly day and night, trying to find relatives of abandoned, orphaned and abused children. He travelled the lengths and breadth of the country, trying to get information and when everything comes together and a child is able to leave Sanyu, he is over the moon. Brasio has a great relationship with the families he works with. He is often still in contact with them many years after he has stopped official follow up visits, and is someone that they sometimes go to in times of crisis. Brasio is a very selfless man and has been known on several occasions to use his own hard-earned money to help if one of the reunited children has an emergency.

Brasio was not only a Social Worker at Sanyu but had many other roles. Brasio supervised the Sanitation Department and the Security Department and was always coming up with innovative ways to make their jobs easier and relieve financial burdens for the home. Brasio learnt how to make liquid soap, and has taught others how to do so, so that Sanyu can save a great deal of money. Instead of hiring an expensive fumigator, he again learnt how to do it himself and has now taught others so that again Sanyu is able to save money. Brasio has been responsible for Christmas Decorations at Sanyu for years, and each year manages to make his display better and better! He also leads important functions at Sanyu like Christmas Parties and is great at organising everything to happen on time.

We could write pages and pages about what Brasio has done at Sanyu, but it isn't just what he has done, it's who he is. He is a parent to all, to the many children who come through the gates of Sanyu Babies' Home, but also to the staff and volunteers. He is a leader. He leads with authority, with integrity and with passion. He is a great storyteller, and loves to share his life stories, wisdom and experiences with others. He is a fatherly figure and a male role model for all. He is an encourager; he loves to build people up and for them to succeed and flourish in life. At his leaving party, staff members and volunteers all shared memories of how Brasio had helped them, welcomed them and really gone above and beyond. He is a great friend to all, and a wonderful man.

We know that Brasio will not be a stranger at Sanyu, and he has already promised that of course he will be back to decorate for Christmas and for the Christmas Party. So really, it isn't 'goodbye', it is 'see you soon'! Thank you Brasio for everything you have done for everyone at Sanyu. We wish you all the very best for your future endeavours and can't wait to see you again soon!

OUR NEW SANYU PICK-UP TRUCK!

SANYU'S FIRST FOSTER PARENT MEETING:

In April 2023, Sanyu Babies' Home was happy to hold their first ever meet-up for parents who have fostered and/or adopted from Sanyu. A facilitator from CRANE (Children at Risk Network) – Caroline Bankusha, came to run the meeting and share information with our guests. We were able invite parents from as far back as 2012. In total, 53 adoptive/foster parents attended the event.

Parents were given information about how the fostering to adoption process works in Uganda. Sanyu Babies' Home focuses on finding parents who will foster with the view to adopt. Caroline explained that to be full adoptive parents they must go to court and legalise it. Without this, children are not adopted but long-term fostered.

Time was given for parents to share their own experiences and ask questions. Many parents had faced similar financial challenges surrounding legal and court fees. Many parents had prioritised paying medical or school fees. Some of the parents shared that they have been fostering for 5-10 years without legalizing the adoption. The facilitator was able to share with the parents the importance of legalizing the adoption through the courts and paying the necessary fees.

As the parents were sharing and discussing, a common challenge was deciding how best to tell their children that they are adopted. Many parents wondered about when, where and how to tell their children. Some parents had decided that they did not want to tell their children. Others voiced concerns of their child hearing it from someone else first. One mother told her own personal story of someone telling her daughter before she had the opportunity to.

Everyone who came participated and were willing to share their stories with one another. It was helpful for parents to see other families who are in similar situations or who have been through them in the past. One girl- Melissa Kirabo Mukisa, came who had been adopted from Sanyu in 2003, and she spoke to all of the parents and shared her testimony. She advocated for telling children that they are adopted. She believes that it is important for children to know. It meant that other people's views did not influence her – she knew that she was chosen, and she was loved. She also thanked all the parents for being a major blessing in someone else's life.

We were so excited to be able to organise and host this meeting. We loved seeing and hearing from the parents of previous Sanyu children. It was amazing to hear how well the children are all getting on and growing up. This may have been the first meeting of its kind but we know it won't be the last!
We send our sincere appreciation to CRANE (Children at Risk Network) for sponsoring and facilitating the meeting.

Some of our guests shared some of their views on the meeting...

"Having children without an adoption order means that they are not officially part of our family and we cannot share our property. It is key to finalize the process."

"Adopting is a Blessing."

"For the disclosure part, I embraced it with a positive heart and the information I got, really solved lots of my anxieties about that."

MEET DIRECTOR BARBARA!

What is your role at Sanyu Babies' Home?

Hello, my name is Barbara Nankya Mutagubya and I am the Director of Sanyu Babies' Home. My role as Director is to oversee all the activities in the home and ensure all the children and staff are well taken care of.

What does Sanyu Babies' Home do?

Sanyu Babies' Home is a Christian organization taking care of orphaned or abandoned children. We care for up to 50 babies and toddlers aged between 1 day old and 4 years. At Sanyu we provide Christ-like love to babies and children deprived of parental love and reintegrate them into the community through reuniting them with their families, fostering or adoption. When children come into Sanyu, we try to find families so they can go back home. We think that all children should be able to grow up in a family environment.

How long have you been working at Sanyu?

I have been working at Sanyu for 15 years.

What did you do before you started working here?

I graduated from Makerere University in 2007 with a degree in Education. After graduating I spent time volunteering at a local school. This led to an opportunity to work as a missionary teacher in South Sudan in the post-civil war years. I went to teach English and Christianity to former SPLM soldiers. Whilst I was in South Sudan, Namirembe Diocese contacted me after receiving a copy of my CV. Once I was back in Uganda, I attended a series of interviews and introductions before I was appointed Director of Sanyu Babies' Home.

What is your favourite thing about working at Sanyu?

The best part of my role here at Sanyu is seeing children that have arrived in a bad state quickly recover and grow into happy and healthy children. It is even better when we eventually get to see the children going home to their families.

Joy of Learning

FROM SANYU TO SCHOOL!

Divine (in blue t-shirt) and his sponsor Lucy!

Back in the 54th Edition of the Sanyu Newsletter (March 2022), we introduced you to Joy of Learning, a new charity that has been set up by Emily Cheer, a long-term volunteer of Sanyu. Joy of Learning was set up to work with the reunited children of Sanyu Babies' Home, with the primary aim of enabling those children and their siblings to attend school. Joy of Learning launched in January 2022, but due to difficulties obtaining a charity bank account in the UK where they are based, they were operating on a limited basis until recently. We are now so excited that they are fully up and running and have started getting children into school, and supporting each family's basic needs!

Joy of Learning finds Educational Sponsors who will pay a monthly donation of £15 / $20 which covers one child's school fees and requirements. They can accept international donations via PayPal, as well as via their uk bank account, so can accept international sponsors.

If you would like more information about Educational Sponsorship with Joy of Learning, please get in touch with them over email at joyoflearningug@outlook.com or visit their website www.joyoflearningug.com. Make sure you follow them on Facebook and Instagram to stay up to date with what they are doing using @joyoflearningug.

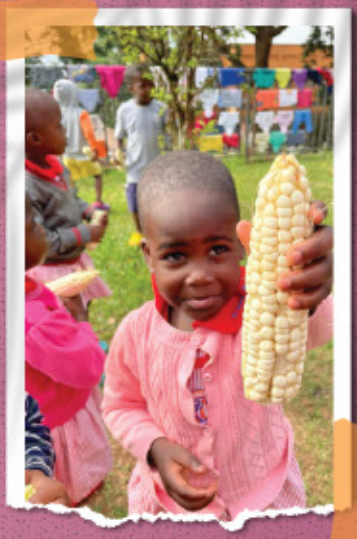

Lucy Ball is a long-term volunteer of Sanyu and has started sponsoring a child with Joy of Learning, and here is what she had to say: "Education is so important. I feel very privileged to be able to sponsor a child through school. It is even more special to me that I am sponsoring a child that I know. I first met Divine in July 2019 when I volunteered at Sanyu Babies' Home over the summer. I was also there in 2021 when Divine left Sanyu to return home to his family. To know that Divine and his siblings are now attending school is amazing."

At Sanyu we are so happy to be working with Joy of Learning and are excited to see the wider Sanyu Family flourish in school! Please do follow their work, and even get involved if you feel able to. We can't wait to watch Joy of Learning get our reunited children 'from Sanyu to School'!

Faith Class enjoyed picking maize from the garden, roasting it and then eating it!

It's wonderful to be back!

This is the third time I'm volunteering at Sanyu Babies' Home and it's wonderful to be back. At home, when some time has passed, I get this need to go to Kampala. I start to talk a lot about Uganda, people I know and of course, Sanyu Babies' Home. I look at my pictures, look up prices for flight tickets and check my calendar. All this, time after time. In my head I can feel the atmosphere of Uganda and my husband can tell that I've got the Uganda sickness. We both know that the only cure for me is to come here. So, here I am again. For 2 weeks this time. 2 weeks to give the children here my time, while I stay in the guest house.

With this article I hope that I can encourage more people to come here to volunteer.

I had this dream for more than 30 years before it came true. For many years my own children and the family life took all my time. Then, when my kids were grown up, this dream of mine once again was awakened. This need to do something for people who don't have the same opportunities that people in my country take for granted. I'm now 54 years and early retired. I don't have very much capacity, but most days I'm able to do a little. Some days, half an hour with a baby is enough. Other days I'm able to go for 4 hours or more. I don't have any health or teachers' education, but I am a mum and a grandma, which is enough. I love to give the kids my time and attention. So many babies who love to be held, just to get the physical contact a baby needs.

I walk with them to soothe them. Or I find a nice spot to sit and interact with a baby. To sing and talk, both English and Norwegian. Often the baby falls asleep in my arms. If it's a quiet time I sit with the child, but if someone else is crying I put the child on a mattress and pick up someone else.

And then there are the toddlers. They can walk so they need more space to tumble. But in fact they are just small kids and some days they need to be held real close and have that one-to-one contact. Others willingly crawl into your arms to get a snuggle. When I sit on the floor, I often have 3- 4 children on my lap. But then, after a short time they need to explore something. It's fun to walk, climb and challenge their limits.
I admire the people who work here. They are so dedicated to the children and I love to watch how they sing and play with the children.

As a volunteer I am not indispensable, just a couple of extra hands. A little extra help for the mamas. And a little extra care for the children. If being with the children sometimes get too intense, the laundry, kitchen and cleaning departments always need a helping hand. There are so many ways to help out. It's always something to keep you occupied. The friendly staff at SBH will guide you.

During my stay I live in the guest house which is within the same walls that surrounds the babies' home, but still outside the children's area. Here I find peace and quiet while I don't work with the children. You will feel so welcome here and the caretaker will help you out with whatever you need. He also makes very nice food, both local and international. Even fresh salad is ok to eat here.

So if you're thinking about trying this kind of work, don't hesitate. SBH is the perfect place to go. They can even pick you up at the airport.

When I go home I'll say, until next time. This has become an important thing in my life.

Best regards
Irene Svendsen - from Norway

SPONSOR
A CHILD

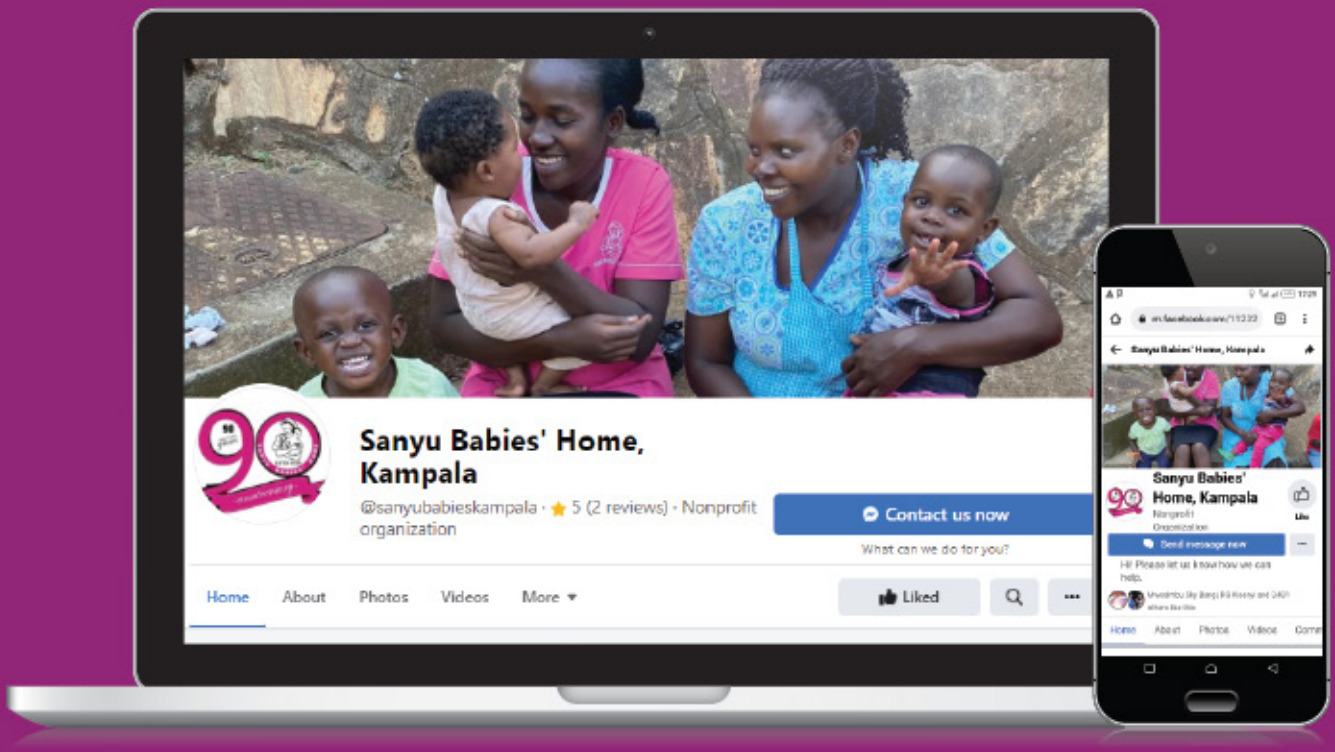

SPONSOR A CHILD

Sanyu takes care of up to 50 babies and toddlers who have been abandoned, orphaned or abused. When children arrive at Sanyu they are often in very poor states of health, sometimes malnourished and they need a lot of love and care. One of the ways you can help these children is by sponsoring a child. When you sponsor a child at Sanyu you commit to partnering with us by making a monthly donation of $15/60,000 UGX. That monthly donation ensures that Sanyu is able to take care of every child's essential daily needs. Sanyu is run almost entirely on donations, many of which are one-off, so having a regular monthly donation means that Sanyu can reliably provide for our children day in, day out. It means that food can be bought, bills can be paid, medical needs met, and loving staff can be given salaries for their work.

When you sponsor a child at Sanyu, you are partnered with one specific child. Each quarter you receive an update on your specific child and find out about what they have been doing. You really get to know your sponsored child and lots of photos are included too.

Your monthly donation of $15 or 60,000 UGX helps up to 50 babies and toddlers under the care of Sanyu to have hope, to be loved, to be nourished and to go home to their forever family when the time is right.

If you would like more information, please contact Director Barbara on sanyubabhome1@gmail.com or 0788162147. Thank you in advance for the difference you will be making to the lives of the Sanyu Babies.

DONORS This Quarter

Every gift that is given to Sanyu is so appreciated and we want to thank everyone who has given to the children of Sanyu. The donors listed have given in cash and also in kind (formula, food, clothes, toys etc.) We know that it is the heart of the giver, not the size of the donation. Thank you so much for your kind hearts!
