LETTER FROM THE CHAIRMAN

As Chairman of the Board of Sanyu Babies' Home, I am honored to lead an organization dedicated to providing love, care and support to our precious babies. I am grateful for our dedicated team, volunteers, and supporters who work tirelessly to make a difference in the lives of our babies. I want to express our deepest gratitude to the foster and adoptive parents for opening your hearts and homes to these precious children. Your decision to foster and adopt them makes a profound impact on the lives of these children. You have provided them with stability, love and a sense of belonging. This is a beautiful reflection of God's love.

We are in the process of completing a five-year strategic plan and a master plan that will guide our development and growth. The goal ahead of us is to create a safe, sustainable, nurturing environment that fosters growth and development, and ensure the children are looked after before they are adopted. We are counting on you to hold our hands and come with us all the way. May God bless you always.

Arch. Dr. Ian Senkatuka – Board Chairman

LETTER from the Director SBH

Dear Friends,

As we reach the midpoint of the year, we are delighted to share with you some highlights and testimonies from Sanyu Babies' Home. Our dedicated team continues to work tirelessly to extend Christ-like love to babies and children deprived of parental care—restoring hope through family reunification, fostering, and adoption.

As you read through the children's stories in this newsletter, you will see the ways they have been rescued and how God continues to use each staff member and volunteer to love and nurture them. We are reminded that God is at work every day through your prayers and generosity which is a true reflection of James 1:27; "Religion that God our Father accepts as pure and faultless is this; to look after orphans and widows in their distress and to keep oneself from being polluted by the world."

You'll find two special photo pages in this newsletter, full of smiles, laughter, and the joy of playtime. No matter where they are in the world, children love to play—and at Sanyu Babies' Home, we make sure that every child has the chance to enjoy a happy, active childhood. We hope the photos bring a smile to your face too!

You will also notice a few photos of the progress being made in Stage 2 of our solar energy project. After the success of stage 1, we are expanding the project. It is such an exciting opportunity to help reduce the costs of running the home whilst also protecting and stewarding the planet that we live on!

A much-loved tradition at Sanyu are our Sports Day events, which brings joy to both the children and staff. This event is eagerly anticipated, and it's always a day filled with laughter, encouragement, and celebration. The children are cheered on during their races and take great delight in being in the spotlight—especially during the awards ceremony at the end of the day. Every child receives a medal or prize, celebrating not just their efforts but also their unique spirit and presence in our home.

At Sanyu Babies' Home, care doesn't stop when the sun goes down. In this issue, we offer a glimpse into our night shift—a crucial part of our work that is made possible by your continued support.

To all our donors, volunteers, and staff: thank you. Your dedication and generosity are transforming lives every single day. As we move into the second half of the year, we are excited about new opportunities to continuing making Sanyu Babies' Home a "Home of Joy".

"Let us not become weary in doing good, for at the proper time, we shall reap a harvest if we do not give up" (Galatians 6:9)

Barbara Nankya Mutagubya – Director

ADRIAN & ELIJAH

You may wonder what happens when a set of siblings is brought to Sanyu. Do they know they are siblings when they are surrounded by so many other children? Do they keep that strong sibling bond even when they are given so many new 'brothers and sisters'? Do they remember life before Sanyu, at home with each other and family members? The truth is, it is sometimes hard to tell. One set of siblings at Sanyu that most definitely knows they are brothers, though, is Adrian and Eliijah.

Adrian and Elijah arrived at Sanyu on 12th October 2023. They were found abandoned and the case was reported to the LC1 Chairman of Kigwanya Zone and Nateete Police station who referred the children to Sanyu Babies' Home for care and protection. From day 1, it was clear that Adrian and Elijah had a very special bond. They both took a while to settle into life at Sanyu; they were old enough to know that this was not their home and so at first found it difficult being at Sanyu, but slowly adjusted over time with the love and care of the Sanyu staff.

Both Adrian and Elijah have asthma and struggle when the weather changes. Adrian in particular has had more than his fair share of sicknesses, but Elijah is always there to look after him and check up on him in the clinic. Elijah is now the oldest boy at Sanyu, and is a born leader. He is very helpful and is such a bright little boy who has an answer for everything. Adrian has the most infectious laugh and smile and he loves playing in the children's play area. These days, they can often be found playing separately at playtime, but always know where the other one is. If you want Elijah, you ask Adrian where he is, and if someone tries to take Adrian's toy, Elijah appears out of nowhere!

Some of our Sanyu Staff reflected on Adrian and Elijah's special bond...

"They are close. Elijah always defends Adrian. When someone disturbs him or takes a toy, Elijah makes sure he gets the toy and gives it back to Adrian." Mama Cissy

"They know they are brothers and they look out for each other." Social Worker Jesca

"They do care for each other. When one is sick, they look after each other, and especially Elijah, he makes sure that Adrian has a sweater every morning when he is sick." Mama Rebecca

"They are really friends. They like sharing. Adrian always wants to be with Elijah. They like being together". Mama Maureen

"Those two brothers love each other, and they help each other." Mama Alice

"They look out for each other. Of recent, Adrian has been so sick with his asthma, and Elijah comes to the clinic to check on him and yesterday he asked me "will Adu be fine?" and I told him yes. It was at around lunch time and I was working on Adrian and I had brought him food but I did not bring for him porridge. Elijah went to ask for porridge and brought for his brother. It was so nice. They always look out for each other." Nurse Martha

Adrian and Elijah have a very special brotherly bond and the love and care they show to each other is beautiful to see.

Playtime Is So much fun!

Sanyu The Home of Joy

Ever since I can remember I wanted to travel the world. In 1999 I went on a four-year backpacking trip around the world, exploring all continents. As part of this I travelled overland from Uganda to South Africa, spending time in the various countries along the way. I fell in love with the people and when I saw abandoned and abused children, I knew I wanted to come back one day and help them. Coming from an abusive childhood myself where I too was abandoned, this felt so important to me. I never forgot my dream of returning to Africa and in 2024, twenty-five years after my first visit and after an extensive healing journey of my own, training as a Trauma Therapist and being a Singer-Songwriter, I returned to volunteer at Sanyu Babies' Home.

On arrival in Uganda, I was met at the airport by Eric and Pafula and safely driven to Sanyu. I was shown my room and introduced to Joel, the guest house manager. I'll never forget his beaming smile! The room was comfortable and had everything I needed – Joel also made delicious food.

I soon started to meet the staff and other volunteers and of course, the babies and children. I have tears in my eyes just thinking about them and starting to hold them, feed them, wash their bottles, change them, put them to sleep. I got to know the children and their individual personalities – I laughed and cried with joy a lot! It's hard to describe just how much I loved every moment. The staff were friendly and welcoming and always appreciated what I did.

One night, I was chatting to another volunteer and asked her if anyone had ever written a song for Sanyu. She said that she didn't think they had. That was it! I knew I had to write a song and that was what I was going to do while I was there. I wrote the lyrics and melody and contacted a producer friend in the U.K. Together we created the instrumental backing track online. I knew I wanted to teach the song to the staff/volunteers and children so they could be part of it – I wanted them to feature on the recording, and I wanted to the video to show life at Sanyu.

I approached Barbara (Director) about my idea, and she told me about Solomon and Innocent from Hope Studio- Children at Risk Action Network (CRANE) who were based just around the corner! Solomon is a musician and recording engineer/producer and Innocent is a videographer. We arranged a meeting, and they were excited and passionate about the project and about helping me bring my vision to life. At Sanyu, everyone really embraced the song and rehearsals – they were so excited and couldn't wait to sing! More and more people joined in with rehearsals each time as word spread! I recorded my vocals, then came their recording studio day as a group of us got into the Sanyu van and were driven to the studio to record vocals. Solomon then worked diligently on putting it all together.

Then came the time to video the song. Oh wow! It was one of the most joyful days I have ever experienced! I went with Innocent and Jesca (Social Worker) to the grounds of St. Paul's Cathedral to film me singing the song by myself so that this could be incorporated into the video. Innocent spent a day and a half at Sanyu itself – capturing everyone singing together their parts and showing life at Sanyu – the kitchen staff, the laundry staff, the driver, the office staff, the volunteers and of course the children – all dancing and singing along to the song. My face hurt at the end of it with all the smiling, laughing and pure joy! It is simply unforgettable!

On Good Friday, Jesca arranged a viewing for the staff/volunteers and children at Sanyu and called me on WhatsApp so that I could "be there" to see everyone watching and loving it. It brought tears to my eyes.

All in all, I would say my experience at Sanyu was truly life changing. The children, the staff and volunteers, all of the wonderful people I met. I felt utterly aligned with my passion and soul! I can't wait to return later this year to work further with the children of Sanyu and other children in Uganda. Sanyu truly is the home of joy!

HOW THE SOLAR POWER PROJECT IS TRANSFORMING LIFE AT SANYU

Thanks to the generous support of the SNV-IMEU project and our incredible donors, the solar energy system has already made a powerful impact.

From cooking and cleaning to classroom learning and medical care, solar power is making daily life smoother, safer, and more sustainable at Sanyu. The following images highlight just a few of the ways your support is creating real change.

Rooftop Solar Panels and Water Heating System

The rooftop solar and water heating system viewed from the top of the compound. The water heating system provides hot water for cooking and bathing, eliminating the need to boil and carry water for nearly 100 baths a day. This saves time, energy, and labor for staff while improving daily care for the children.

Pressure Cookers for the Children's Food

Solar power enables the use of electric pressure cookers, blenders, and other appliances reducing cooking time and fuel costs while ensuring healthy meals for the children.

Infant under phototherapy lights

Solar energy powers essential medical equipment like this phototherapy unit, which treats newborns with jaundice and helps ensure they get the care they need without interruption.

Laboratory machine

With reliable solar power, critical lab machines like this blood analyzer can function consistently. This improves diagnostics and healthcare for the children at Sanyu.

Laundry Washing Machines

With solar-powered laundry machines, staff no longer need to wash clothes late at night to save on electricity. Daytime washing improves staff well-being and allows volunteers to assist.

Classroom Learning via Zoom

Thanks to solar power, children can attend part of their school day via Zoom with online teachers, using a TV in the classroom.

Battery and inverter system (solar infrastructure)

Behind the scenes: One of Sanyu's 2 rooms for battery and inverter systems. These store solar energy, ensuring a stable, round-the-clock power supply for vital services across the home.

ACHIEVEMENTS:

Over the past 9 months, the installed solar electric system has:

- Generated approximately 33.15 MWh of electricity
- Saved an estimated UGX 19,924,500 in energy costs
- Prevented around 3.35 tons of $CO_2$ emissions
- Saved roughly 1,845 trees from being cut for fuel

PHASE 2

EXPANDING & IMPROVING THE SYSTEM

Following the success of the first phase of our solar energy project, we are ready to launch Phase 2. As energy demands continue to rise in a home like ours, this next stage will expand and improve the system for greater efficiency and reliability. We also hope to install pressurized cooking pots in the staff kitchen, after their successful introduction in the children's kitchen.

PHASE 2 NEEDS UGX 250M

Phase 2 WILL INCLUDE

- Installing additional solar panels to increase energy generation
- Upgrading the storage system to ensure stable power supply
- Implementing energy-efficient lighting and appliances throughout the home

Expected BENEFITS

- A decrease in carbon emissions (estimated at 1.5 tons per year)
- A reduction in operating costs (estimated at UGX 5 million per month)
- Improved energy security and reliability
- Lower long-term costs, allowing us to allocate more resources toward child care
- A better environment and quality of life for Uganda's future leaders

CALL TO ACTION

To complete Phase 2, we need to raise an additional UGX 250 million. Your donations and fundraising efforts will directly support this work.

My Volunteer EXPERIENCE

Volunteering at Sanyu has been a great experience. Ever since I can remember I have loved babies. I remember me begging to carry and feed my little cousin, and sulking when I was told no, that I was too young. I have always wanted to give back to the community, and volunteering at Sanyu was great way to do both. This is my third time coming to Sanyu; I first came last year and as usual the mamas here welcomed me with open hearts and arms. When I went back to school, I mobilised my friends and we agreed to start up a business of selling candies at school and our aim was to donate all the money made from our business to Sanyu. Unfortunately, towards the end of the semester somebody we don't know broke our locker and stole all the money and the candies. I was very disappointed, but I still want to come to Sanyu with ways that I can support the children because I love them so much. I love the Sanyu Babies' Home routine and I love the culture of introducing children to God from such an early age. Being at Sanyu is such an amazing experience, I love watching the children grow up, and I hope I will come back to volunteer even next summer!

SPONSOR A CHILD

Sanyu takes care of up to 50 babies and toddlers who have been abandoned, orphaned or abused. When children arrive at Sanyu they are often in very poor states of health, sometimes malnourished and they need a lot of love and care. One of the ways you can help these children is by sponsoring a child.

When you sponsor a child at Sanyu you commit to partnering with us by making a monthly donation of $15/60,000 UGX. That monthly donation ensures that Sanyu is able to take care of every child's essential daily needs. Sanyu is run almost entirely on donations, many of which are one-off, so having a regular monthly donation means that Sanyu can reliably provide for our children day in, day out. It means that food can be bought, bills can be paid, medical needs met, and loving staff can be given salaries for their work.

When you sponsor a child at Sanyu, you are partnered with one specific child. Each quarter you receive an update on your specific child and find out about what they have been doing. You really get to know your sponsored child and lots of photos are included too.

Your monthly donation of $15 or 60,000 UGX helps up to 50 babies and toddlers under the care of Sanyu to have hope, to be loved, to be nourished and to go home to their forever family when the time is right.

If you would like more information, please contact Director Barbara on sanyubab-home1@gmail.com or 0788162147. Thank you in advance for the difference you will be making in the lives of the Sanyu Babies.
